KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, believing that it would involve the country in financial ruin. We believe in a sound currency and in the use of both gold and silver for coinage, provided always that a dollar in one is made precisely as valuable as a dollar in the other.

We favor a Tariff so regulated as to protect the interests of all classes of our citizens upon articles that may be successfully manufactured or produced in this country, thus insuring good wages to the laborer and a home market to the producer; and in connection with this we favor the re-establishment of the doctrine of reciprocity. We believe that such a system will defray every Government expense, gradually liquidate all its indebtedness, restore public confidence and relieve to the very heart the suffering and unemployed concerning the currency. In view of the past financial history of the Democratic party, its devotion to the old state debt system and its old tendencies, we affirm that the Republican party can be more safely trusted to regulate the financial system of the Nation.

We favor an American policy which will protect American and American interests in any part of the world at all hazards and will sympathize with struggling Republics rather than ignorant monarchies.

Uncle Sam's Shortage.

The deficit in the National Treasury for the first 44 days of the present fiscal year is $14,370,254 65.

If Mr. BOWLER declines to pay the sugar tariff, it is probable that when Congress makes an investigation will be had, Mr. BOWLER be called before it, and instructed to bring papers and state, after being put under oath, who told him to question the constitutionality of an act of Congress. It is also probable that afterward legislation will be enacted abridging the powers of the Controller, and so plainly defining his duties that in the future there will be no danger that an executive officer will trench upon the powers of the legislative branch of the Government.

The Free-trade editors are not the only people who want to look further backward than 1894 to compare the workings of the Gorman and McKinley Tariffs. Farmers have been looking backward and asking us to investigate the Tariff question as affecting their eggs and hay. We have done so.

CROP REPORTS.

Excellent Growing Weather and Showers in Kentucky.

Condition of Corn in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia Improved.

Cotton Experiences Further Improvement—Tobacco in Poor Condition in Ohio and Portions of Kentucky and West Virginia—Fall Plowing Commenced.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—The reports as to the condition of the crops throughout the country and the reports received at Chicago are as follows:

The condition of corn in Maryland, Virginia, Indiana, Iowa, Oklahoma and portions of Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, owing to drought, is not as good as it was a week ago, but in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Michigan it has improved. The corn continues in excellent condition in Wisconsin and generally throughout the southern states. In portions of Tennessee and Kentucky, however, late corn is being favorably affected by drought. Cotton has experienced further improvement during the week, generally through the central and eastern portions of the cotton region. Tobacco is in poor condition in Ohio and suffering from drought in portions of Kentucky and Virginia. In Tennessee it is in good condition. Drought has been relieved in Michigan and Indiana, but continues in Virginia, West Virginia, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas. Plowing for fall seeding has commenced in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Kentucky—Excellent growing weather and scattered showers. Corn and tobacco suffering in counties surrounding Grant and Pendleton where quantity of tobacco destroyed by previous rains in Hancock and Davies counties. Elsewhere corn and tobacco is exceedingly fine. All grain harvested.

Ohio—Abnormally warm with rain-fall unequally distributed. Crops show general improvement except in west central counties where drought continues. Favorable outlook for lowland corn. Tobacco is in poor condition. Grapes ripening. Some fall plowing.

Indiana—Rains badly distributed. Weather conditions hindered growth of crops, especially corn, potatoes, tomatoes and tobacco. Corn is in fair condition. Pastures short, tobacco medium. Clover cutting progressing. Apples, peaches, pears and melons fair yield.

Taking the first eight months of each Tariff period, the McKinley Act from October, 1890, to the end of May, 1891, and the Gorman Act from September, 1894, to the end of April, 1895, we have the quantities and values of our imports of eggs for each eight months as follows:

QUANTITIES OF IMPORTS OF EGGS.

—For eight months—
October 1st, 1890—September 1st, 1894—
May 31st, 1891. September 1st, 1895.
McKinley Tariff. Gorman Tariff.
Eggs, dozen 1,899,366. 2,139,047
Average McKinley price, 13½ cents per dozen.
Average Gorman price, 13½ cents per dozen.

VALUES OF IMPORTS OF EGGS.

—For eight months—
October 1st, 1890—September 1st, 1894—
May 31st, 1891. September 1st, 1895.
McKinley Tariff. Gorman Tariff.
Eggs, $253,881. $253,881
Average Gorman price, 13½ cents per dozen.

This shows that, during the first eight months of the Gorman Tariff, our imports of foreign eggs increased by nearly 500,000 dozen. The amount of money that was sent abroad for Gorman Tariff eggs was only $30,000 more than in the McKinley period, because the larger importations of Gorman eggs reduced the average price from 15½ to 13 cents per dozen, a fact that our farmers will not forget.

Turning next to the hay crop we find that, during the first eight months of the Gorman Tariff, we imported 114,000 tons more hay than during the first eight months of the McKinley Tariff period, nearly $500,000 more money being sent out of the country to pay for foreign hay more than during the first eight months of the McKinley Tariff period. These details are—

QUANTITIES OF IMPORTS OF HAY.

—For eight months—
October 1st, 1890—Sept. 1st, 1894—
May 31st, 1891. Sept. 1st, 1895.
McKinley Tariff. Gorman Tariff.
Hay, tons 1,391,157. 1,505,157
Average McKinley price, $7.30 per ton.
Average Gorman price, $7.30 per ton.

William Driscoll's heirs, by Commissioner, sold to W. A. Jobst a parcel of land on the Lexington pike for $512.

And did it ever occur to you that a single copy of THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN, the weekly edition of the Public Ledger—contains more home news than you could embrace in a hundred ordinary letters? And did it ever strike you that you can send the paper to your relatives and friends for a whole year at less cost than you can write a letter every week? Besides, don't you think a year's subscription to THE REPUBLICAN would be a present highly appreciated by those at a distance? Suppose you try it and hear what they have to say on the subject.

BIG PROFITS Small Investments.

Returning property will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our

Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system. It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systemizing their Chicago brokers, make large amounts of money, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 and over for those who invest a few thousands.

It is so easy to make the large profits from comparatively small investments that this plan is now being taken up by those who have a few hundred dollars, and who are thoroughly understanding of systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making news, and a full explanation of our plan. Explain margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing as a success.
